PROGRAM OVERVIEW

The MAEd in Curriculum & Instruction Program is designed for students who wish to become teachers, develop or enhance classroom skills, become curriculum supervisors, or become educational leaders with instruction as their main focus.

In the MAEd in Curriculum & Instruction Program, students develop core practical and academic skills in analysis, oral and written communication, problem solving, critical thinking, team-building, and computer technology, through courses that examine the practical, historical, philosophical, psychological, social, technical, and theoretical aspects of education.

Concentrations in Multiple and Single Subject Teacher Credential Preparation

At Argosy University/ Orange County, MAEd in Curriculum & Instruction students may choose to specialize in one of the following concentrations:

The Single Subject Teacher Credential authorizes the holder to teach in a specific subject in a departmentalized classroom usually found at the middle or secondary level.

The Multiple Subject Teacher Credential authorizes the holder to teach all subjects in a self-contained classroom, K–12, as well as in preschool and adult education. It is the credential sought by those who wish to teach elementary school (K–6).

Argosy University/Orange County has been approved by the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing (CCTC) to offer the Single Subject and Multiple Subject Credentials. A California Single Subject or Multiple Subject teaching credential requires both proof of subject matter competence and completion of an approved credential program. Students seeking to obtain any teaching credential must make formal application and be admitted to the teacher credential program before beginning coursework.

While courses and curricula are designed to satisfy prevailing state licensure and certification requirements in many states, students are responsible for checking with the teaching certification agency in the state in which they teach (or plan to work) to confirm the applicability of program courses and degrees to meet local requirements.

Master of Arts in Clinical Psychology/ Marriage & Family Therapy Program

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

The Master of Arts (MA) in Clinical Psychology Program has primarily been designed to educate and train students in preparation for licensure as a Marriage and Family Therapist (MFT) in California and/or entry into the Doctor of Psychology (PsyD) Clinical Psychology Program. The program introduces students to basic clinical skills and theoretical foundations of Marital and Family Therapy and Clinical Psychology, and enhances student preparation for those considering application for transfer into the PsyD in Clinical Psychology Program.

Eligibility for Licensure

The Master of Arts in Clinical Psychology prepares a student to pursue licensure in California as a Licensed Marriage and Family Therapist (MFT).

Master's-level licensure varies from state to state. It is the student's responsibility to determine the requirements for professional licensure in the state they wish to practice. Students interested in pursuing licensure in states other than California should contact their state's department of professional regulation for information. The American Counseling Association frequently publishes information on professional issues of importance to professional counselors, including licensure, on their web page: www.counseling.org.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

The application process for admission into the MA in Clinical Psychology Program requires the submission of materials that will enable the Admissions Department to verify the applicant's academic qualifications to enroll in the MA in Clinical Psychology Program. Because the Admissions Committee also takes into consideration the qualities essential to becoming an effective clinician, material is also required which will help to determine the individual's personal integrity, maturity, interpersonal skills, and ability to communicate effectively.

Individuals interested in applying for entry into the master's program must submit the following materials:

- Completed Application for Admission Form
- Application fee (non-refundable, except in California).
- Personal statement with a self-appraisal of qualifications for the profession
- Current résumé
- Three completed Applicant Recommendation Forms
- Official transcripts from all postsecondary schools attended

Following the applicant's personal interview, all admission materials, including the interviewer's summary of the interview, are forwarded to the Argosy University/Orange County Admissions Committee. The committee reviews applicants in the order the files are received and makes decisions based on evaluation of each applicant's academic ability and potential for developing clinical skills. The Admissions Department will notify all applicants of the Clinical Master's Programs Admissions Committee's decision as soon as the decision has been made. Accepted applicants are required to remit a deposit by the date stipulated on the written notification to reserve a place in the entering class. This deposit will be applied toward the tuition of the student's first semester as a matriculated student.

Applicants must have graduated with a bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited institution, a nationally accredited institution approved and documented by the faculty and dean of the College of Professional Psychology and Behavioral Sciences, or an appropriately certified foreign institution.

Professionalization Group Requirements

The course objectives area as follows:

- To assist and support students in developing identities as clinical psychology trainees and evolving clinical psychology professionals through readings, discussion, role play and classroom presentation.

- To provide academic advisement and student advocacy

Practicum and Practicum Seminar Requirements

The goal of the practicum at the master's level is to train students in the application of the knowledge, skills, and attitudes developed by their academic experience. This experience includes the direct observation, interviewing, and treatment of clients. Certain sites also afford some students with the opportunity of limited exposure to psychological testing procedures.

When available, the master's Therapy Practicum stresses family and couples therapeutic intervention. Because there is such a wide range of therapy experiences available, and because the selection of students for a given practicum is done by the site, students should not expect to experience the total spectrum of therapies during the practicum. The practicum is the first opportunity provided to students for clinical field training. Practicum provide students with opportunities to work under supervision with a clinical population within a mental health delivery system. The practicum provides an essential part of clinical training and all students are required to participate in the practicum experience. Liability insurance is included in the cost of the practicum.

The practicum is a required 600-hour training experience, which takes place during an academic year, normally beginning in the Fall and concluding at the end of the Summer I Semester. 150 hours of client contact are required within the practicum. The practicum is treated as a course and carries 3 credit hours per semester or 6 credit hours for the academic year. A practicum may not be done in a student's place of employment, nor is any student exempt from the practicum requirements. Students who come to Argosy University/Orange County with extensive clinical backgrounds are placed in practicum sites in areas in which they have an interest and have not had previous experience.

The MA in Clinical Psychology Program practicum are not intended to substitute for the PsyD in Clinical Psychology practicum. Students who intend to apply for admission into the doctoral program after completing the master's in clinical psychology program may not receive credit for doctorate in clinical psychology practicum on the basis of their master's-level practicum.

Eligibility for Practicum

All students who enter the master's practicum application process must be in good academic standing, have a minimum grade point average of 3.0 (on a scale of 4.0) and have completed the academic planning which will allow for all the practicum prerequisite courses to be completed prior to the beginning of the practicum. No student may begin a practicum without being in attendance at Argosy University/Orange County for a minimum of two full semesters, including eight courses.

The following courses are practicum prerequisite courses and must be completed and/or transferred prior to beginning the practicum:

Practicum Prerequisites

PC6430	Aging (1)
PP7020	Child and Adolescent Development (3)
PP7110	Professionalization Group I (1)
PP7111	Professionalization Group II (1)
PP7300	Psychopathology I (3)
PP7301	Psychopathology II (3)
PP7365	Clinical Interviewing (3)
PP8010	Cognitive Behavioral Theory and Therapy (3)
PP8039	Interventions II (3)
PP8050	Family and Couples Therapy (3)

The program chair and the Training Department have the discretion to make decisions on any probationary student who is beyond the first year of attendance. This would include the student activities of both seeking a practicum and attending a practicum.

If a first-year student is placed on probation based on Fall semester grades, the student may not look for a practicum during the Spring Semester. If the student has achieved a satisfactory GPA (3.0 on a scale of 4.0) when the Spring grades are available, the student, at the discretion of the program chair and the Training Department, may look for a practicum.

If a first-year student who has accepted a practicum is placed on probation after Fall grades are received, the student may not attend the practicum if the GPA is below the minimum requirement after the Spring grades are received. If the GPA is satisfactory after the Spring grades are received, the student, at the discretion of the program chair and the Training Department, may begin the practicum.

Practicum Evaluation

Evaluation of student progress in clinical field training focuses on three areas: theoretical knowledge base, clinical skills and professional attitudes. A thorough review of site and seminar evaluations is conducted by the Training Department, and an overall grade of "Credit" or "No Credit" is included in the student's academic record.

Please refer to the Argosy University/Orange County Training Manual for a more detailed description of training requirements and guidelines. All students are responsible for being familiar with the information contained in the Training Manual.

Practicum Seminar

All students enrolled in a practicum must also be enrolled in a practicum seminar. The seminar meets weekly throughout the academic year and allows the student to reflect on various practicum experiences and to acquire additional skills and attitudes useful in field training. The specific content and emphasis of the seminar varies according to the practicum setting, the focus of the enrolled students, and the professional expertise of the faculty member.

Clinical Competency Evaluation Requirements

At the master's level, the Clinical Competency Evaluation consists of two competency-based evaluations designed to evaluate the student's mastery of basic clinical assessment and therapeutic skills.

Students should be capable of demonstrating clinical competence via the master's Therapy CCE both conceptually and in application. Argosy University/Orange County also expects that students who have learned theoretical and applied concepts in classroom courses will have made use of out-of-class clinical contacts (i.e., practicum, practicum seminar group, visiting lecturers) to refine and extend the skills to be evaluated by the CCE. Therefore, passing the seminar and site evaluation do not guarantee a passing grade on the CCE.

Descriptions and Procedures for Successful Completion of the Clinical Competency Evaluation

Master's Therapy Clinical Competency Evaluations require the student to submit a client history, a tape, a complete transcript of a therapy hour to be reviewed, a client assessment and progress report, and a self-critique of a therapy session that the student is submitting. The student may have received general supervision on this therapy case or session from the practicum site supervisor, but this session must not have been submitted for review, consultation, supervision or critique at the Argosy University/Orange County or elsewhere prior to submission for satisfying the requirements of the CCE.

The Therapy CCE is graded "Pass/Resubmit/Fail."

The Ethics CCE requires that the student pass Professional Issues with a grade of "B" or better. A grade of "B-" requires remediation to be decided upon by the course instructor; a grade of "C+" or lower requires retaking the course.

Integrative Paper Requirements

MA in Clinical Psychology Program students are required to complete an Integrative Paper (PP6011) based upon a presentation of a clinical question or problem that has been defined either before or during their practicum experience, integration of the relevant literature on the topic, with inclusion of core course concepts relevant to the subject as well. The purpose of this review is to assess the student's achievement of a capacity to apply relevant concepts to a clinical topic, and to research relevant areas of the literature so as to demonstrate an independent capacity to approach clinical problems with a scholarly perspective and process. It is expected that the production of this paper will require several drafts and ongoing consultation with a faculty advisor for this project.

The criteria for evaluation of the project will include a clear definition of a clinical topic, appropriate application of relevant literature and major course concepts to that topic, the subsequent presentation of a set of observations based on the major findings of this review, a clear written presentation in APA style. This requirement assesses the student's capacity to independently complete a relevant literature review of the clinical questions raised in the case, with a fuller understanding how the literature and the core curriculum can extend and deepen the student's understanding of the topic. The review should include relevant topics from psychopathology, psychotherapy, human development, and diversity courses as well as those derived from the literature review. Students must abide by the structured meeting schedule set by faculty to complete the Integrative Paper by the end of the Summer I Semester. Failure to abide by this schedule and complete assignments in a timely way will result in a "No Credit" grade and require the course to be taken again in the following academic year.

Integrative Paper Prerequisites

In order to qualify for Integrative Paper (PP6011), students must be in good standing (GPA of 3.0 on a scale of 4.0) and not on probation; must petition the program chair of the MA in Clinical Psychology Program at the beginning of the Fall Semester prior to the Integrative Paper; receive approval to work with a particular faculty member assigned to this course, and complete and/or transfer all courses listed below:

PROGRAM TRANSFER

Application to the Doctor of Psychology in Clinical Psychology Program from the Master of Arts in Clinical Psychology Program

Early and Second-Year Transfer Applications

Students enrolled in the MA in Clinical Psychology Program may apply for early admission to the PsyD in Clinical Psychology Program during their first four-course semester in the MA Clinical Psychology Program, and will be considered after the completion of their first 12 credit hours in the program. They may also apply during the semester in which they are completing their eighth course in their second year, and will be considered after the completion of these courses. All MA in Clinical Psychology Program students applying for transfer must have a GPA of at least a 3.25 in the MA in Clinical Psychology Program, and strong recommendations from psychology faculty attesting to both their academic and clinical readiness for the PsyD in Clinical Psychology Program. Clinical readiness includes the faculty observation of professional comportment in relation to peers, staff and faculty. Students in the MA in Clinical Psychology Program who gain early admission into the doctoral program at the completion of their first four courses may matriculate into the PsyD in Clinical Psychology Program in the following semester without completing their master's program. Students admitted into the PsyD in Clinical Psychology Program after completion of 24 credit hours will not be allowed to matriculate into the doctoral program until they have completed all requirements of the master's program. However, such admitted students are approved to take PsyD in Clinical Psychology Program courses in the interim period between acceptance and formal matriculation.

Application Qualifications

- The student must be in good standing in the master's program.
- The student must have completed at least 12 credit hours, or four courses, of required coursework (second semester applicants) or 24 credit hours or eight required courses (second year applicants) in the master's in clinical psychology program.
- Students applying to the PsyD in Clinical Psychology Program in their second year must have passed the Clinical Competency scholarly project, or be planning to complete the project in the year they apply to the doctoral program.
- Students applying to the PsyD in Clinical Psychology Program in their second year must be in good standing in the first semester of the master's Therapy Practicum and Seminar.
- The student must have a GPA of 3.25 (on a scale of 4.0) or better.

The early transfer applicant deadline for submitting completed applications to the Admissions Department is December 1 of the Fall Semester, or by August 30 of the Summer II Semester (for Spring entries into the program) pending completion of all 12 credit hours of coursework and final grade submissions. The second-year applicant deadline is October 15. The Admissions Department processes master's in clinical psychology program students' application after the completion of the applicants eighth course in the program. Applicants are informed of the Admissions Committee's decision before the onset of the subsequent term following application review. The successful early transfer applicants who are admitted can participate in the PsyD in Clinical Psychology practicum application process and, if they successfully obtain a Diagnostic Practicum, can begin it in the following Fall. The second year accepted applicants will be required to complete their master's Therapy Practicum in their second year, and be ready to start their Diagnostic Practicum their third year.

Application Procedure

- The student must meet with the program chair of the clinical psychology programs who will review the student's academic record to ascertain eligibility to apply.
- The student must inform the program chair and the Admissions Department in writing of the intention to apply.
- The student must inform the Admissions Department of any additional material that will be submitted in support of the application.
- The student will assume responsibility of seeing that the Admissions Department receives this additional material before the admission deadline.

All students, regardless of entrance date, must apply to transfer in accordance with established admission deadlines. The Admissions Department will inform students by letter of the decision of the Admissions Committee.

Students accepted for admission to the PsyD in Clinical Psychology Program are bound by the program requirements in place at the time they matriculate into the doctoral program. Students should refer to "Section Six: PsyD in Clinical Psychology Program" in this addendum for specific curriculum and practicum requirements for Fall 2005 entering students. 37 credit hours of courses will transfer toward the doctoral degree requirements.

Students accepted to the doctoral program and planning to complete the master's degree prior to August 1 of the same year may apply for a Diagnostic Practicum the following Fall. However, these students must complete all of the prerequisite courses to go on Diagnostic Practicum prior to beginning the practicum. Typically, master's in clinical psychology students transferring to the doctoral program will need to take the following courses in the Spring and/or Summer Semester prior to beginning the Diagnostic Practicum:

COURSE/CREDIT TRANSFER

Transfer of Courses/Credit into the Master of Arts in Clinical Psychology Program From Other Institutions

Like other institutions which offer graduate degrees, the Argosy University/Orange County does not automatically transfer credit from graduate coursework taken at other institutions. Students who have taken graduate courses elsewhere may petition to have these courses apply toward a transfer of courses in the curriculum.

For a course to be considered eligible for a transfer, the following conditions must be met:

- The course must have been taken no more than seven years before the student's entry into Argosy University/Orange County.
- The course must have been a graduate-level course, taken for graduate-level credit at a regionally accredited college or university. In the case of institutions outside the United States, the appropriate state or national accreditation is required.
- Any course submitted towards a transfer of a 3-credit hour course must have itself carried 3 or more graduate credit hours.
- A student must have earned a grade of "B" or better on any course submitted for a transfer.
- A maximum of four courses (12 credit hours) may be transferred towards the master's program in clinical psychology.
- The school does not accept any credit earned as military credit, credit by examination, credit by correspondence, credit for life experience, or graduate credit from non-accredited schools.

Any student who desires to submit a course for transfer review should notify the Student Services Department and obtain the appropriate transfer request form. This form should be completed and returned to the Student Services Department. Requests must be made in writing. Transfer requests may be submitted any time during the admission process until the end of the first year of matriculation. Transfers are not reviewed or officially granted until a student is officially accepted. Transfers are not recorded on the transcript until the student has paid a transfer fee for each approved transfer.

Students petitioning for transfer are requested to provide course descriptions, syllabi, exams, diagnostic test protocols and write-ups. Transfers are granted by the faculty if there is an 80 percent overlap in course content and objectives between the course submitted for transfer and the course as it is offered at Argosy University/Orange County. Students may obtain the procedures to be observed in submitting transfer requests from the Student Services Department.

Master of Arts in Counseling Psychology/ Marriage & Family Therapy Program

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

The Master of Arts (MA) in Counseling Psychology Program prepares students to practice and pursue licensure in California as Marriage and Family Therapists (MFT) and registration as Professional Counselors. Counselors who complete this program will be skilled professionals capable of integrating classroom knowledge and practicum experiences into a wide variety of settings with diverse client populations. The program introduces students to basic counseling skills and to applying individual, family, and group theory to client assessment and intervention. The program emphasizes the development of professional attitudes, theoretical and factual knowledge, and assessment and intervention skills essential to marriage and family counseling and professional counseling specialties. The program develops counselors who are committed to the ethical provision of quality services. We are proud of our diverse student body and of a newly established curriculum that complies with the educational requirements of the Council for Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP), the accrediting body for the counseling profession.

Mission Statement

The counseling program is committed to preparing counselors who promote the development of social, psychological, physical, and spiritual health of individuals, families, communities, and organizations—toward the betterment of society. Central to our mission is developing counselors who practice social justice, advocacy, self reflectiveness, cultural sensitivity, and ethical behavior.

Program Formats

Courses are offered on campus on Saturdays from 9 a.m.–4 p.m., one morning course from 9 a.m.–12 p.m., and one afternoon course from 1–4 p.m., weekday evenings, and blended/online. Full-time students will take two on-campus courses and one online course each semester. During the Fall and Spring Semesters, courses are 15 weeks long. During the Summer Semester, courses are 7.5 weeks long. The program is approximately two years in length for students who attend full-time (approximately three courses per semester, including summers). Course sequencing currently begins each Fall, and practicum begins in the Fall. Therefore, the programs of students who begin during Spring or Summer Semesters or of those who elect to attend part-time will extend beyond two years.

Full-time students should plan to spend approximately 20 hours doing homework each week, and should thus arrange their work and family lives accordingly. Students whose lives will not accommodate this workload or whose past academic records are less strong should probably plan to attend part-time.

Blended/Online Courses

These courses are blended/online courses that are completed in an Internet-based online environment, and in up to 15 hours per semester of on-campus meetings. Students will be informed of the on-campus meeting schedule as soon as they register for the course. In general, the on-campus meetings will be at the beginning, middle, and end of the course, and will be scheduled around the Saturday course schedule. National online courses are not part of the Master of Arts in Counseling Psychology curriculum.

The online “classroom” is accessed with a password and log-in. Inside the online classroom, students have access to course syllabi, assignments, lectures, and discussion threads. Depending on the course and the instructor, students may have the opportunity to participate in group work, real time discussions, and online quizzes or exams. Each blended/online course has a start and an end date. Blended/online courses also have textbooks that can be ordered online—students will receive instructions for ordering materials upon registering for a course. The courses are not self-paced; students have weekly assignments and expectations. However, the courses are very convenient in that the students do not have to sit in front of a computer at any given time to participate; they can login at any time of the day. In general, good participation is considered logging in at least three times a week. Students who fail to post to the discussion board for two weeks or for two assignments will need to repeat the course. Before starting the first blended/online course, students receive an orientation to the online classroom environment. To get a better understanding of what an online course is right now, visit our website and take the demo course available at www.online.argosyu.edu

Program of Study

During their first semester of the master’s in Counseling Psychology/Marriage & Family Therapy Program, students complete a Program of Study by indicating when they intend to take the required courses. Students receive academic advisement at the beginning of their course of study and ongoing throughout the program. Advisement is considered an essential part of student matriculation, helping students to plan a program of study that is sequential so that each course builds on the previous one. Advisement is conducted in both a group format and through individual appointments prior to online enrollment in classes. Courses taken outside of the program of study will not count toward the courses required for the degree. Should students wish to change their Program of Study, they must submit a written request to their advisor, indicating the change that they wish to make and the reasons for the change. Students are required to retake any course for which they receive a grade below a “B-.”

Brown Bag Lunches

Academic advisement, a prerequisite to enrollment, takes place in a group format biweekly during “brown bag lunch meetings.” The program advisor will be available to discuss upcoming registration needs, advisement issues, to make announcements, and to answer any questions. Students are encouraged to make individual appointments with their advisor as well. To insure enrollment in the correct classes, students must have their program advisor’s signature on associated enrollment forms (e.g., on-campus and online), providing clearance for registration. Students are required to attend brown bag lunches, as that is the only means to distribute information critical to their success in the program.

Counseling Student Action Association

The Counseling Student Action Association (CSAA) was formed by students for students. Its mission is to serve the needs of Master of Arts in Counseling Psychology students by providing general and specialized information services, educational programs, and advocacy, as well as a caring and supportive environment, while fostering a sense of belonging directed toward academic, professional, and personal growth. The CSAA strives to encourage student involvement with the university and serves as a collective advocate for student concerns. The CSAA has provided peer support, bartering services, a newsletter, textbook acquisition advice, and other community building events. Students can find out more about the CSAA by attending the Brown Bag Lunches.

Student Review Procedures

In order to accomplish program goals, the counseling faculty, individually and collectively, screen or evaluate students as they move through the program. When difficulties are detected, they are initially handled in informal discussions between the student and the student’s professor or advisor. If at any time during the course of study a student is considered at-risk, the student will be asked to meet with the faculty to discuss and develop a remedial course of action. In addition to criteria indicated to students in course descriptions, students are expected to meet the following professional criteria:

- Complete all advanced prerequisites, be in good academic standing, and have no grades of “Incomplete.”
- Behave consistently with the Ethical Standards of the American Counseling Association
- Demonstrate psychological well-being in professional interactions with faculty, students, and clients
- Develop appropriate self-understanding and knowledge about how self influences client growth
- Give evidence of the ability to handle the stress inherent in a professional helping position
- Be willing to be referred for counseling when academic progress or clinical practice is impaired by unresolved issues; and
- Demonstrate professional behavior which is consistent with the anticipated professional position or practicum/internship placement, including writing ability and the ability to manage the administrative aspects of counseling.

The progress of students who are identified as experiencing difficulty is discussed continuously at program evaluation meetings. Students are screened or evaluated at the following stages as they progress through the program:

- At application and admission
- During or at the completion of each individual class
- Upon meeting with advisor about the program of study
- While enrolled in Counseling I (PC6104)
- When applying for an practicum placement, and
- During and after the practicum.

Dismissal Students may be removed from the program or from a practicum for difficulties in academic performance, as indicated in the catalog, or for failures in technical and interpersonal skill, attitudes, and professional character. Students may be removed from the program or practicum on evidence of incapacity, incompetence, or unethical behavior. These are defined as:

- Persistent limitations in interpersonal or social relationships characterized by frequent disruptions in collegial and/or client therapist relationships due to factors such as withdrawal, conflicts, inappropriateness, aggressiveness, or hostility; and
- Persistent inability to carry out professional functions of a counselor characterized by frequent inability to be able to complete complex skills and techniques of the profession without assistance or direction.

Eligibility for Licensure

Graduates of the Master of Arts in Counseling Psychology Program are eligible to pursue licensure in California as Licensed Marriage and Family Therapists (LMFTs) and obtain registry as Professional Counselors. Upon completion of educational requirements, two years of post-master’s supervised practice is required for licensure as an MFT and registry as a professional counselor. For more information and application materials related to MFT licensure, please contact the Board of Behavioral Sciences, 400 R Street, Suite 3150, Sacramento, CA 95814-6240, www.bbs.ca.gov. For more information and application materials related to registration as a Professional Counselor, please contact the California Registry of Professional Counselors and Paraprofessionals, www.californiaregistry.org.

Masters-level certification or licensure varies from state to state. It is the student’s responsibility to determine the requirements for professional licensure in the state they wish to practice. Students interested in pursuing licensure in states other than California should contact that state’s department of professional regulation for information. The American Counseling Association (ACA) and the National Board for Certified Counselors (NBCC) frequently publish information on professional issues of importance to professional counselors, including licensure, on their web pages: www.counseling.org and www.nbcc.org, respectively.

Privacy

Personal growth and development is considered necessary to becoming an effective counselor. As a result, courses incorporate strategies for promoting such growth. These experiences may include, among others, journaling, reflecting on one's difficulties with the counseling process, identifying and sharing personal issues and history that may hinder effective and culturally sensitive counseling, and sharing personal experiences with bias and discrimination. We recognize the sensitivity necessary to create an environment of safety for such sharing, and expect faculty and students to conduct themselves in a way that promotes such safety. One necessary component in creating safety is the faith that one's disclosures will be held in confidence. Therefore, we expect students to keep confidential any material shared in class and in course assignments.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Applicants to the program must submit the following materials to the Admissions Department by the application deadline:

- Completed Application for Admission Form

ENROLLMENT REQUIREMENTS

Students in the program enroll in two to three classes per semester. During the second year practicum which includes an on-campus seminar, students generally enroll in one additional course each semester, or they may enroll in the practicum alone. Students are offered approximately one course per semester online. The remainder must be taken on-campus.

Students are required to be continuously enrolled until they satisfy graduation requirements. If needed courses are not available during a given semester, if students elect to take a break from classes, or if students have completed all coursework but have not successfully passed the Comprehensive or Clinical Competency Exam, they must register for Directed Study (P6801).

GRADUATION REQUIREMENTS

Students who are admitted into the Master of Arts in Counseling Psychology Program will be responsible for completing the program requirements that are in effect at the time of their admission. However, the program retains the right to modify these requirements in accordance with the demands of the counseling profession. The courses will be completed in the order recommended by the program.

To be eligible for graduation, students must meet the following requirements:

- Completion of 49 credit hours. The total credit hours must include:
  - 43 credit hours of required courses
  - 6 credit hours of practicum and seminar
- Successful completion of the Comprehensive Examination no later than the end of the fourth year
- Successful completion of the Clinical Competency Exam (CCE)
- A grade point average of at least 3.0 (on a scale of 4.0)
- Completion of these requirements within four years of matriculation into the program
- A completed Petition to Graduate submitted to campus administration

Petition to Graduate

Argosy University/Orange County holds a commencement ceremony annually in May. All students who desire to graduate, even those who do not intend to participate in the annual commencement ceremonies, must submit the appropriate Program Completion Petition and fees to the Student Services Department.

Although commencement is held annually, students in the MACP/MFT generally complete program requirements in September and will thus be recognized as graduated students and receive letters of completion at that time.

Students may walk in the commencement ceremony as long as they anticipate completing the requirements for graduation during the Summer following the ceremony.

WRITING PROGRAM AND TECHNOLOGY REQUIREMENTS

The Professional Writing Course was created in order to help students master the skills of writing psychological reports and literature reviews in an accurate, informational, and professional manner. The Writing Program includes both full semester courses and workshops on academic writing, APA style, and library searches. All students need to take the workshops in order to be introduced to Argosy’s writing expectations. Students who have not done so have been disadvantaged in grades received on writing assignments.

Students will complete a writing assignment early in their program to determine whether they need the assistance of the 15-week course. They may then elect to take the writing course, be required to take the course, or be recommended to the course. The course does not count toward the credit hours required for graduation, although students with any writing difficulties are encouraged and may be required to take it. If students are required to take the course, they must enroll in the course as soon as the course is available to them.

Please keep in mind that the use of anyone else’s writing, content, or materials, without giving credit to them using proper citations, quotation marks, and page numbers, is plagiarism, for which students may be dismissed from the program. If you have any questions about how to write a paper without plagiarizing someone else’s work, please ask your professor and/or attend one of the writing courses or workshops.

Students may find the Master’s in Counseling Psychology/ Marriage & Family Therapy Program at Argosy University/ Orange County technology-intensive. The online courses require participation in online discussions, chat rooms, online exams, and electronic assignments submission. Courses require word processing and email capacity, and the resources to audio and/or videotape and transcribe counseling sessions. Students who feel anxious about these requirements may want to plan to have technological assistance available so that they do not fall behind in their coursework.

Practicum and Practicum Seminar Requirements

The practicum is the first opportunity provided to students for field training in counseling. The practicum provides students with the opportunity for working under supervision with a clinical population in a mental health delivery system. The practicum is an essential part of training in counseling, and all students are required to participate in the practicum experience. Liability insurance is included in the cost of the practicum.

Students may be placed in a practicum and practicum seminar during their second year of study. A student may also have the option of waiting until all coursework is completed before beginning the practicum experience. Students who work full-time during the daytime hours cannot be guaranteed evening and weekend practicum; so please begin early to plan for work flexibility as some practicum hours will be during weekdays. For registration purposes, the practicum and seminar are treated as a single course. The practicum is a 10-month experience, running from Fall through Summer I. Practicum usually begins in September and concludes in June. During this time period, the student will be required to spend a minimum of 700 hours, or 16–20 hours per week, in the practicum training experience.

Practicum students are expected to spend a minimum of 240 hours in direct, face-to-face client service. Students will receive at least two hours of on-site, face-to-face supervision per week with a licensed mental health professional, one hour of which is individual supervision. Supervision should occur at a regularly scheduled time each week.

A practicum may not be done in a student's place of employment, nor may students transfer the practicum requirements from another educational institution. Students with extensive clinical backgrounds will be placed in practicum sites that allow them to practice in areas of interest with which they do not have previous experience.

Eligibility for Practicum

All students who begin the practicum application process must be in good academic standing when they apply (have a minimum grade point average of 3.0 on a scale of 4.0) and have completed the academic planning that will allow for all the practicum prerequisite courses to be completed prior to the beginning of the practicum. No student may begin a practicum without being in the program for a minimum of two semesters.

To be eligible for a practicum, a student must have successfully completed or transferred the following courses:

Practicum Prerequisites

PC6005	Maladaptive behavior and Psychopathology (3)
PC6104	Counseling I (3)
PC6230	Theories in Counseling Families and Individuals (3)
PC6300	Professional and Ethical Issues (3)
PC6505	Group Counseling (3)
PC6510	Social and Cultural Foundations (3)
PC6700	Couples and Family Counseling (3)

The program has the discretion to make recommendations to the director of Clinical Training and/or the dean on any fully admitted probationary student who is beyond the first year of attendance. This recommendation would include the student activities of both application for practicum and participating in practicum.

If a first-year student is placed on probation based on Fall Semester grades, the student may not apply for a practicum during the Spring Semester. If Spring grades then indicate that the student has raised his or her GPA to 3.0 on a scale of 4.0, the student, at the discretion of the director of Clinical Training may look for a practicum.

A first-year student who has been accepted at a practicum site may only participate in practicum if he or she raises the GPA to 3.0 before practicum begins.

Practicum Evaluation

The goal of the practicum is to train competent counselors who are capable of providing counseling and effective therapeutic interventions. Evaluation of student progress in clinical field training focuses on three areas: theoretical knowledge, counseling skills, and professional attitudes. A thorough review of site and seminar evaluations is conducted by the Training Department, and an overall grade of "Credit" or "No Credit" is included in the student's academic record.

Practicum Seminar Requirements

All students enrolled in a practicum must also concurrently enroll in a practicum seminar. The seminar meets bi-weekly throughout the practicum year and allows the student to reflect on various practicum experiences and to acquire additional skills and attitudes useful in field training. The specific content and emphasis of the seminar varies according to the practicum setting, the focus of the enrolled students and the professional expertise of the faculty member.

Comprehensive Examination Requirements

All students in the program are required to successfully complete a Comprehensive Examination. The information tested by the exam covers the course material required of students during their program. By asking objective and essay questions, the examination requires students to be able to demonstrate mastery of the material they have learned, their ability to communicate this mastery, and their ability to think critically, reflectively, ethically, and deeply about the material. Students who fail the Comprehensive Exam their first time will be eligible to take the exam again the next time it is offered (in August or September of each year). Students who fail the exam twice will be referred to the MA in Counseling Psychology/Marriage & Family Therapy Committee for review.

Comprehensive Examination Prerequisites

To be able to sit for the Comprehensive Examination, the student must have successfully completed all required coursework. Students taking the Comprehensive Examination must be in good standing and have a GPA of at least 3.0 (on a scale of 4.0).

Comprehensive Examination Procedures

Students are required to successfully complete the Comprehensive Examination no later than the end of the fourth year after matriculation. The Comprehensive Examination is offered at least once each year. Students interested in taking the Comprehensive Examination should fill out a petition to take the Comprehensive Exam (available through Student Services) during the specified semester of the year that they intend to take the test one month in advance of the exam. Additional information regarding registration, qualification, format, and dates of the exam can be obtained from the Student Services Department or program chair of the Counseling Psychology Program.

Clinical Competency Exam Requirements

The Clinical Competency Exam (CCE) requires students to present a taped session, a transcript, a clinical case report, and a self-evaluation related to a client that they have been working with during the student's Practicum. In the CCE students demonstrate their conceptual and theoretical abilities and their counseling skills in real world counseling situations. Argosy University/Orange County also expects that students who have learned theoretical and applied concepts in classroom courses will have made use of out-of-class clinical contacts (i.e., practicum, practicum seminar group, visiting lecturers) to refine and extend the skills to be evaluated by the CCE. Therefore, receiving passing grades in the practicum seminar and on the practicum supervisor's evaluation does not guarantee a passing grade on the CCE.

Descriptions and Procedures for Successful Completion of the Clinical Competency Exam

As the Capstone Project for the practicum experience, students submit a tape of a counseling session with a client from their practicum site, a transcript of 30 minutes of the counseling session (including a verbatim, a description of counseling skills used and the reason for their use, an evaluation of each intervention including a better option if needed, and an evaluation of the impact of the intervention on the client), a clinical case report, and a self-evaluation paper. Students receive clear instructions on how to complete each of these assignments, along with multiple opportunities to practice these assignments, during the practicum experience. The CCE tape cannot have been submitted earlier, either for the site or for the program, for review, supervision, or critique. The CCE is graded as "Pass," "Remediate," or "Fail." Students are evaluated on their fund of knowledge regarding the foundations of professional counseling, their ability to manage an interview, the ability to arrive at an accurate diagnosis and dynamic formulation, the ability to develop a theoretically supported treatment plan, their ability to carry out theoretically grounded intervention strategies which promote positive movement in the client, and their ability to evaluate their own work and abilities.

In the event that remediation is necessary, students will be given the opportunity to respond to specific faculty feedback about needed improvements.

In the event that a student fails the examination, he/she will be guided on how to remediate the exam. The Clinical Training Committee, in consultation with the initial examining faculty member, will recommend a program of remediation to address concerns noted in the CCE. Should the student be unable to complete the remediation for any reason, he/she will be referred to the Clinical Training Committee and then the Evaluation Committee for disposition, with one option being dismissal from the program.

Student progress through the program is intended to be sequential. Certain courses are offered to first-year students that provide a theoretical and practical foundation for courses that will follow in subsequent years. ### COURSE/CREDIT TRANSFER

Transfer of Courses/Credit into the Master of Arts in Counseling Psychology/Marriage & Family Therapy Program from Other Institutions

Like other institutions that offer graduate degrees, the counseling program does not automatically transfer credit from graduate coursework taken at other institutions. Students who have taken graduate courses elsewhere may petition to have these courses apply toward a transfer of courses in the curriculum. Transfers are not reviewed or granted until students have been accepted.

For a course to be considered eligible for a transfer, the following conditions must be met:

- The course must have been taken no more than seven years before the student's entry into the program, except when students present evidence of ongoing work experience or continuing education in that area.
- The course must have been a graduate-level course, taken for graduate-level credit at a regionally accredited college or university. In the case of institutions outside the United States, the appropriate state or national accreditation is required.
- Any course submitted towards a transfer of a 3-credit hour course must have itself carried 3 or more graduate semester credit hours.
- A student must have earned a grade of "B" or better on any course submitted for a transfer.
- A maximum of two courses (6 credit hours) may be transferred towards the program.
- Practicum and practicum seminars are not eligible for transfer.
- The school does not accept any credit earned as military credit, credit by examination, credit by correspondence, credit for life experience, or graduate credit from non-accredited schools.

A student who desires to submit a course for transfer review should notify the Student Services Department and obtain the appropriate Transfer Request Form. This form should be completed and returned to the Student Services Department. Only requests made in writing are reviewed.

A request form is required for each course that a student submits for review. A fee will be assessed only if the transfer is granted.

All transfer requests must be submitted during the first academic year of the student's enrollment. Students petitioning for transfer may be required to provide course descriptions, syllabi, and exams. Student Services will publish the procedures to be observed in submitting external transfer and transfer requests.

Transfer of Courses/Credit from Another Argosy University Campus

Students who transfer from one Argosy University campus to another may receive credit for a course taken at the original campus, if the course is identical to the one offered at the transfer campus. In cases where the course is similar but not identical, the campus has the option to review for approval or denial. Students at Argosy University/Orange County who wish to submit course transfer requests for courses taken at another Argosy University campus must do so before or during the first year of enrollment at Argosy University/Orange County.

Doctor of Education in Counseling Psychology Program

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

The Doctor of Education (EdD) in Counseling Psychology Program is designed to meet the special requirements of working professionals motivated to develop their knowledge and skills to enhance and extend their professional practice and their contributions to their current work settings. EdD students are generally experienced practitioners from the diverse fields of social work, counseling, marriage and family, and psychology.

The challenges of an ever-changing society, and the diversity of roles available to the professional counselor, require a life-long commitment to continuing education. The EdD in Counseling Psychology Program presents a structured opportunity to fulfill this need, and allows counselors from a variety of settings to develop and advance their knowledge and skills in consultation, supervision, training, and teaching positions, as well as to expand the range of their professional counseling practice. Practitioners join together to develop new interests, levels of competency, and direction for their practice through an applied, practitioner-scholar approach to the role of counselor.

The faculty is composed of committed teaching professionals, dedicated to the development of individual student interest areas during the courses and dissertation. An eclectic mix of backgrounds, theoretical orientations, and interests in the faculty members provides students with the opportunity for exposure to new ideas, as well as support for the extension of established interests. The EdD in Counseling Psychology Program assists in the development of leaders in the fields of human services, consultation, and education.

Mission Statement

The EdD in Counseling Psychology Program is committed to preparing counselors who promote the development of social, psychological, physical, and spiritual health of individuals, families, communities, and organizations—toward the betterment of society. Central to our mission is developing counselors who practice social justice, advocacy, self reflectiveness, cultural sensitivity, and ethical behavior.

Program Formats

Courses are offered on campus on Saturdays from 9 a.m.–4 p.m., one morning course from 9 a.m.–12 p.m., one afternoon course from 1–4 p.m., and online. Full-time students will take two on-campus and one blended/online course each semester. During the Fall and Spring Semesters, courses are 15 weeks long. During the Summer Semester, courses are 7.5 weeks long. The program is approximately three years in length for students who attend full time (approximately 3 courses per semester, including summers).

Full-time students should plan to spend approximately 20 hours reading and doing homework each week, and should thus arrange their work and family lives accordingly. Students whose lives will not accommodate this workload or whose past academic records are less strong should probably plan to attend part-time.

These courses are blended/online courses that are completed in an Internet-based online environment, and in up to 15 hours per semester of on-campus meetings. Students will be informed of the on-campus meeting schedule as soon as they register for the course. In general, the on-campus meetings will be at the beginning, middle, and end of the course, and will be scheduled around the Saturday course schedule. National online courses are not part of the the EdD in Counseling Psychology.

Program Curriculum

The online “classroom” is accessed with a password and log-in. Inside the online classroom, students have access to course syllabi, assignments, lectures, and discussion threads. Depending on the course and the instructor, students may have the opportunity to participate in group work, real-time discussions, and online quizzes or exams. Each blended/online course has a start and an end date. Blended/online courses also have textbooks that can be ordered online—students will receive instructions for ordering materials upon registering for a course. The courses are not self-paced; students have weekly assignments and expectations. However, the courses are very convenient in that the students do not have to sitting in front of a computer at any given time to participate; they can log-in at any time of the day. In general, good participation is considered logging in at least three times a week. Students who fail to post to the discussion board for two weeks or for two assignments will need to repeat the course. Before starting the first blended/online course, students receive an orientation to the online classroom environment. To get a better understanding of what an online course is right now, visit our website and take the demo course available at www.online.argosyu.edu.

Program of Study

During the first semester of the EdD in Counseling Psychology Program, students will complete a Program of Study indicating when they intend to take the required courses. Students receive academic advisement at the beginning of their course of study and ongoing throughout the program. Advisement is considered an essential part of student matriculation, helping students to plan a program of study that is sequential so that each course builds on the previous one. Advisement is conducted in both a group format and through individual appointments prior to online enrollment in classes. Courses taken outside of the program of study will not count toward the courses required for the degree. Some research courses bear a course number that is the same whether the course is offered in the American School of Professional Psychology, the College of Education and Human Development, or the College of Business and Information Technology; however, only those listed under the EdD in Counseling Psychology Program are permissible as part of a counseling psychology students Program of Study. Students must also obtain approval for the particular business or education elective that they wish to take, approval that is based upon discussions with their advisor about their professional goals. Should students wish to change their Program of Study, they must submit a written request to their advisor, indicating the change that they wish to make and the reasons for the change. Students are required to retake any course for which they receive a grade below a "B-."

Brown Bag Lunches

Academic advisement, a prerequisite to enrollment, takes place in a group format bi-weekly during "brown bag lunch meetings." The program advisor (MACP or EdD) will be available to discuss upcoming registration needs, advisement issues, to make announcements, and to answer any questions. Students are encouraged to make individual appointments with their advisor as well. To insure enrollment in the correct classes, students must have their program advisor's signature on associated enrollment forms (e.g., on-campus and online), providing clearance for registration. Students are required to attend brown bag lunches, as that is the only means to distribute information critical to their success in the program.

Optional Internship

Students may choose to participate in optional internship opportunities. They may choose to participate in up to 300 hours of internship, with each 100 hours receiving 1 credit hour. The internship hours may include supervised experiences in clinical settings (leadership, grant writing, advocacy), teaching, supervision, and/or other activities of a regularly employed professional. These hours are allocated at the discretion of the doctoral advisor and students, based on experience, training, and professional objectives. Students should receive weekly individual and/or triadic supervision at the internship site by a qualified professional.

Counseling Student Action Association

The Counseling Student Action Association (CSAA) was formed by students for students. Its mission is to serve the needs of EdD in Counseling Psychology Program students by providing general and specialized information services, educational programs, and advocacy, as well as a caring and supportive environment, while fostering a sense of belonging directed toward academic, professional, and personal growth. The CSAA strives to encourage student involvement with the university and serves as a collective advocate for student concerns. The CSAA has provided peer support, bartering services, a newsletter, textbook acquisition advice, and other community building events. Students can find out more about the CSAA by attending the Brown Bag Lunches.

Student Review Procedures

In order to accomplish program goals, the counseling faculty, individually and collectively, screen or evaluate students as they move through the program. When difficulties are detected, they are initially handled in informal discussions between the student and the student's professor or advisor. If at any time during the course of study a student is considered at-risk, the student will be asked to meet with the faculty to discuss and develop a remedial course of action. In addition to criteria indicated to students in course descriptions, students are expected to meet the following professional criteria:

- Complete all advanced prerequisites, be in good academic standing, and have no grades of "Incomplete"
- Behave consistently with the Ethical Standards of the American Counseling Association
- Demonstrate psychological well-being in professional interactions with faculty, students, and clients
- Develop appropriate self-understanding and knowledge about how self influences client growth
- Give evidence of the ability to handle the stress inherent in a professional helping position
- Be willing to be referred for counseling when academic progress or clinical practice is impaired by unresolved issues; and
- Demonstrate professional behavior which is consistent with the anticipated professional position or practicum/internship placement, including writing ability and the ability to manage the administrative aspects of counseling.

The progress of students who are identified as experiencing difficulty is discussed continuously at program meetings. Students are screened or evaluated at the following stages as they progress through the program:

- At application and admission
- During or at the completion of each individual class
- Upon meeting with advisor about the program of study
- When working on pre-dissertation and dissertation tasks

Dismissal

Students may be removed from the program or from a practicum for difficulties in academic performance, as indicated in the catalog, or for failures in technical and interpersonal skill, attitudes, and professional character. Students may be removed from the program or practicum on evidence of incapacity, incompetency, or unethical behavior. These are defined as:

- Persistent limitations in interpersonal or social relationships characterized by frequent disruptions in collegial and/or client therapist relationships due to factors such as withdrawal, conflicts, inappropriateness, aggressiveness, or hostility; and
- Persistent inability to carry out professional functions of a counselor characterized by frequent inability to be able to complete complex skills and techniques of the profession without assistance or direction.

Eligibility for Licensure

Graduates of the EdD in Counseling Psychology Program who have graduated from a counseling master's program are also eligible to become registered professional counselors in California. More information on the registry is available from the California Registry of Professional Counselors and Paraprofessionals, www.californiaregistry.org, respectively.

The American Counseling Association (ACA) and the National Board for Certified Counselors (NBCC) frequently publish information on professional issues of importance to professional counselors, including licensure, on their web pages: www.counseling.org and www.nbcc.org.

Although the aim of the EdD in Counseling Psychology Program is to develop leaders and contributors in the counseling profession, some students in the EdD in Counseling Psychology Program may find it helpful to pursue licensure in California as psychologists. In addition to the educational requirements provided at Argosy University/Orange County, 3000 hours of supervised training is required for licensure as a psychologist. Some of these hours may be acquired during the doctoral program. Also, prospective psychologists must pass the Examination for Professional Practice in Psychology (EPPP), and the California Jurisprudence and Professional Ethics Examination (CJPEE). For more information and application materials please contact the Board of Psychology, 1422 Howe Avenue, Suite 22, Sacramento, CA 95825-3200 916.263.2699, bopmail@dca.ca.gov, www.psychboard.ca.gov.

Psychologist licensure varies from state to state; students interested in pursuing licensure in states other than California should contact that state's department of professional regulation for information.

Privacy

Personal growth and development is considered necessary to becoming an effective counselor. As a result, courses incorporate strategies for promoting such growth. These experiences may include, among others, journaling, reflecting on one's difficulties with the counseling process, identifying and sharing personal issues and history that may hinder effective and culturally sensitive counseling, and sharing personal experiences with bias and discrimination. We recognize the sensitivity necessary to create an environment of safety for such sharing, and expect faculty and students to conduct themselves in a way that promotes such safety. One necessary component in creating safety is the faith that one's disclosures will be held in confidence. Therefore, we expect students to keep confidential any material shared in class and in course assignments.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Applicants to the program must submit the following materials to the Admissions Department by the application deadline:

- Completed Application for Admission Form
- Application fee (non-refundable, except in California)
- A two- to four-page essay expressing the applicant's personal interest in counseling, career and professional goals, and experience in human services, whether paid or volunteer.
- Three completed Applicant Recommendation Forms, at least two of which are from faculty members familiar with the applicant's academic abilities. In addition to the Applicant Recommendation Forms, it is strongly recommended that students also solicit personal letters from those making the recommendations.
- Official transcripts from all postsecondary schools attended
- Copy of résumé that includes human services related volunteer and paid experience

The applicant is expected to provide all required materials to the Admissions Department by the application deadline. Incomplete applications will not be considered. Prior to the deadline, applicants should check with the Admissions Department concerning the status of their files. After all materials are complete, they will be reviewed by the Admissions Committee, and an interview will be set up with those applicants who meet the requirements below to determine the level of fit between the applicant and the program. After the interview, the Admissions Committee will make a determination regarding admission to the program. The director of Admissions will notify all applicants of the Admissions Committee's decisions.

To be considered for admission to the Doctor of Education in Counseling Psychology Program, the applicant is required to have:

- A master's degree from a regionally accredited institution, a nationally accredited institution approved and documented by the faculty and dean of the College of Professional Psychology and Behavioral Sciences, or an appropriately certified institution.
- A grade point average of at least 3.25 (on a scale of 4.0) in work leading to a master's degree and in any subsequent graduate study
- Minimum TOEFL® scores of 213 (computer version) or 560 (paper version) are required of applicants whose native language is not English or who have not graduated from an institutional at which English is the language of instruction.

Students in the program enroll in two to three, 3-credit hour classes per semester. Students are offered approximately one course per semester online. The remainder must be taken on-campus.

Students are required to be continuously enrolled until they satisfy graduation requirements. If needed courses are not available during a given semester, if students elect to take a break from classes, or if students have completed all courses but have not yet passed the Comprehensive Exam or the pre-dissertation tasks, they must register for Directed Study (1 credit hour) or Advanced Seminar in Research Methods (3 credit hours).

GRADUATION REQUIREMENTS

Students who are admitted into the Counseling Program will be responsible for completing the program requirements that are in effect at the time of their admission. The courses will be completed in the order recommended by the program.

To be eligible for graduation, students must meet the following requirements:

- Satisfactory completion of all requirements in the program of study developed in consultation with the faculty members
- Satisfactory completion of 60 semester credit hours beyond the master's degree, including 51 credit hours of coursework and 9 credit hours of dissertation
- A grade point average of 3.2 or higher
- Satisfactory performance on the Comprehensive Examination
- Successful completion and defense of the dissertation
- A completed Petition to Graduate submitted to campus administration

WRITING PROGRAM AND TECHNOLOGY REQUIREMENTS

The Professional Writing Course was created in order to help students master the skills of writing psychological reports and literature reviews in an accurate, informational, and professional manner. The Writing Program includes both full semester courses and workshops on academic writing, APA style, and library searches. All students need to take the workshops in order to be introduced to Argosy University's writing expectations. Students who have not done so have been disadvantaged in grades received on writing assignments.

Students will complete a writing assignment early in their program to determine whether they need the assistance of the 15-week course. They may then elect to take the writing course, be required to take the course, or be recommended to the course. The course does not count toward the credit hours required for graduation, although students with any writing difficulties are encouraged and may be required to take it. If students are required to take the course, they must enroll in the course as soon as the course is available to them.

Please keep in mind that the use of anyone else's writing, content, or materials, without giving credit to them using proper citations, quotation marks, and page numbers, is plagiarism, for which students may be dismissed from the program. If you have any questions about how to write a paper without plagiarizing someone else's work, please ask your professor and/or attend one of the writing courses or workshops.

Students may find the EdD in Counseling Psychology Program at Argosy University technology-intensive. The online courses require participation in online discussions, chat rooms, online exams, and electronic assignments submission. Courses require word processing and email capacity, and the resources to audio and/or videotape and transcribe counseling sessions. Students who feel anxious about these requirements may want to plan to have technological assistance available so that they do not fall behind in their coursework.

PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS

Comprehensive Examination Requirements

EdD in Counseling Psychology Program students take a Comprehensive Examination during their final semester of coursework. The examination provides an opportunity for students to demonstrate knowledge of key concepts, significant empirical findings, counseling applications, and critical and integrative thinking. The criteria for evaluation of the examination include breadth and depth of knowledge and theory; integration and application of concepts; organization and clarity; and understanding of issues related to diversity and ethics. Students will be expected to provide complete and focused answers to the comprehensive questions.

Students will take their Comprehensive Exams on-campus. They must be in good standing (GPA of 3.2 on a scale of 4.0) and not on probation; and must complete and/or have transfer credit for all core course and/or elective options except one. Students may elect to take the exam concurrently with taking the last class required in their program or they may take the exam after they have completed all of their required coursework. The dates for the Comprehensive Exam will be announced during the first or second week of each semester, and will be administered around the fourth or fifth week of each semester.

The Comprehensive Exam will take place on two consecutive days from 8 a.m. – 12 p.m. Students who need accommodations due to documented learning or medical disabilities will be allowed additional time during the afternoon (1 p.m. – 5 p.m.) to complete the exam questions being tested that day.

Students are allowed to bring the following items with them when they take the exam:

- A copy of the DSM-IV-TR
- Five journals or textbooks
- A non-annotated reference list
- An outline or crib notes on one side of one letter-size sheet of paper

Students will have two opportunities to pass the Comprehensive Exam. If students fail the first time, they have up to a year (two additional semesters) to study for and pass a second exam during its regularly scheduled administrations. They will take a different exam on their second effort, the same exam that is being given to others for that administration of the comprehensives. During the semesters that students are studying for the exam, they are required to be continuously enrolled. They may take either the 3-credit hour Advanced Seminar in Research Methods (C7930) which offers structured tutorials to assist students in passing the comprehensives (as well as other assistance), a 1 credit hour Directed Study (PC8801) in order to study for the exam independently, or another course.

Students will receive the results of their Comprehensive Exams within approximately two weeks of taking the exam. The three possible results are “Pass,” “Pass with Remediation,” and “Fail.” Students will need to have a score above “2” (minimally competent) for all eight criteria on the exam in order to receive a passing grade. If students receive a total score of “16” or greater, with scores on one or two criteria below “2,” students will receive a “Pass with Remediation.” These students will have a week to study further on the areas that were not satisfactory and come back to campus to retake those portions of the exam. They will have one morning from 8 a.m. – 12 p.m. to do so. If the results are satisfactory, they will receive a passing grade. If the results are still unsatisfactory, they will receive a failing grade.

Students who have completed all of their coursework, and are engaged in working on the Comprehensive Exam or the pre-dissertation tasks must be continuously enrolled. Two courses have been developed for this purpose: Directed Study (PC8801) (1 credit hour) and Advanced Seminar in Research Methods (C7930) (3 credit hours). Students’ financial aid will not be affected by taking either the 1-credit hour or 3-credit hours course once they have completed all of their coursework. Advanced Seminar in Research Methods (C7930) is a structured class that is designed to assist students in passing their comprehensives, as well as writing their dissertation prospectus and selecting/recruiting chairs and committees. It will assist students who fail their Comprehensive Exam or fail to progress on their dissertation. If students elect to take the 1-credit hour Directed Study (PC8801), they will have to study independently for their Comprehensive Exam or work independently on developing their dissertation prospectus and in selecting their committee.

Dissertation Requirements

The EdD in Counseling Psychology Program has established a number of supports and incentives for students to facilitate their timely completion of their dissertations.

Students must pass the Comprehensive Examination, complete a prospectus, and select a dissertation committee to be eligible register for Dissertation Block I, and to begin work on their dissertation. As noted above, students are required to be continuously enrolled in the program, which means registered each semester. Therefore, if they have not completed these pre-dissertation tasks, we recommend that they register for Advanced Seminar in Research Methods (C7930) (3 credit hours), a course that will be offered each semester expressly for the purpose of supporting students in completing their comps, developing their prospectus, and selecting a committee. Students may/will be required to take this course until they have finished these tasks. They also have the option of taking a 1-credit hour Directed Study (PC8801) course; however, during this course students would need to independently complete the required tasks. Once students complete these tasks, they may register for Dissertation Block I (C7935). The instructor for the Advanced Seminar in Research Methods (C7930) will inform the program when students are ready to progress. One semester should be enough time for students to complete the pre-dissertation tasks. Those who do not complete these tasks within two semesters of completing their other coursework will appear before the Evaluation Committee to develop a plan for their success; the inability to do so may result in dismissal from the program.

Prior to participating in Dissertation Block I (C7935), students draft an initial prospectus and approach prospective faculty members about serving as the chair of their dissertation committee. Faculty offer input on the prospectus and decide their willingness to serve on the committee. Should there be a lack of fit between student interest and faculty expertise, the expectation is that students will attempt to accommodate their topic selection to the expertise of the chair of their committee. When a student has located a faculty member who is willing to serve as chair, he/she then approaches faculty members to serve as the two required committee members. When the chair determines that the prospectus is satisfactory, the student submits the Dissertation Committee Petition to the program chair, who formally appoints the chair and committee members to the dissertation committee. Students are referred to the Argosy University/Orange County Dissertation Guide for further instructions as to the specific requirements of the dissertation.

Students registered for the dissertation blocks must attend the dissertation course led by the chair of their committee; the course will meet at least monthly at a regularly scheduled time. Students ensure that chairs fill out the dissertation tracking form, with signatures, as students progress. These tracking forms must then be sent to the program chair at the end of each semester to verify students' continued progress on the dissertation.

Students receive credit for a block and may register for the next block as long as they can show a) at least monthly contact with their chair and b) documented progress on monthly assignments, with almost all of that block's assignments completed (i.e., it must be clear to the chair that the block will be completed within a month). Students may complete the tasks associated with each block within one semester. However, they will be allowed two semesters to complete a block if necessary. If a second semester is necessary, students will register for Directed Study (PC8801). If students do not complete a block within two semesters, they will be referred to the Evaluation Committee to clarify what will be needed for their future success. If no such plan seems possible, students may be dismissed.

Failure to meet at least three times (phone or in person) or failure to make documented progress towards pre-established goals on the thesis in a given term will result in failure for the semester and a required re-take of that block at the student's cost.

When the student and dissertation chair agree that the student has completed Block II tasks, students will defend their dissertation proposal to their committee members. When agreement is reached on the proposal, the student will submit the proposal, with agreed upon changes, to the Institutional Review Board for approval. Approval must be granted prior to collecting data. When the student and dissertation chair agree that the student has completed the dissertation, a dissertation defense date will be set at a time agreeable to the student and dissertation committee members. The chair will then inform the program chair of the date. The date must be set and the program chair notified at least one month in advance of the defense so that formal announcements of the defense can be distributed.

Professional Development Requirements

Doctoral students are expected to become leaders in and contributors to the counseling profession during and as a result of their tenure in Argosy University/Orange County's EdD in Counseling Psychology Program. Students will, therefore, participate in a number of leadership activities during their tenure in the doctoral program. These may include professional association attendance and presentation, article submissions for publication, professional association governance, advocacy for client or counseling profession issues, and/or other types of service (e.g. grant writing, supervision, teaching assistantships). These activities may be completed as course assignments. Faculty are available to mentor students in deciding on and participating in these areas, and advisement about professional development will be available during advisement meetings. Before the end of their programs, students will prepare a portfolio of their professional development experiences. The portfolio will include a one page, double-spaced description of each activity: outlining the activity; what students specifically did; what students learned about themselves, about the profession, and about making contributions to the profession; and what students would do differently next time. Students will also include any artifacts from their experiences (flyers, etc).

DOCTOR OF EDUCATION IN COUNSELING PSYCHOLOGY PROGRAM COURSE PREREQUISITES

Select courses in the program have master's-level prerequisite requirements. As the Program of Study sheet indicates, students must have completed master's-level research, ethics, multicultural counseling, counseling theories, and diagnosis and treatment planning courses. ## COURSE/CREDIT TRANSFER

Transfer of Courses/Credit into the EdD in Counseling Psychology Program Other Institutions

Like other institutions that offer graduate degrees, the counseling program does not automatically transfer credit from graduate coursework taken at other institutions. Students who have taken graduate courses elsewhere may petition to have these courses apply toward a transfer of courses in the curriculum. Transfers are not reviewed or granted until students have been accepted into the program.

For a course to be considered eligible for a transfer, the following conditions must be met:

- The course must have been taken no more than seven years before the student's entry into the program, except when students present evidence of ongoing work experience or continuing education in that area.
- The course must have been a doctoral-level course, taken for doctoral level credit at a regionally accredited college or university. In the case of institutions outside the United States, the appropriate state or national accreditation is required.
- Any course submitted towards a transfer of a 3-credit hour course must have itself carried 3 or more graduate semester credit hours.
- A student must have earned a grade of "B" or better on any course submitted for a transfer.
- A maximum of four courses (12 credit hours) may be transferred towards the program.
- Practicum and practicum seminars are not eligible for transfer.
- The school does not accept any credit earned as military credit, credit by examination, credit by correspondence, credit for life experience, or graduate credit from non-accredited schools.

A student who desires to submit a course for transfer review should notify the Student Services Department and obtain the appropriate transfer request form. This form should be completed and returned to the Student Services Department. Only requests made in writing are reviewed.

A request form is required for each course that a student submits for review. A fee will be assessed only if the transfer is granted.

All transfer requests must be submitted during the first academic year of the student's enrollment. Students petitioning for transfer may be required to provide course descriptions, syllabi, and exams. Student Services will publish the procedures to be observed in submitting external transfer and transfer requests.

Transfer of Courses/Credit from Another Argosy University Campus

Students who transfer from one Argosy University campus to another may receive credit for a course taken at the original campus, if the course is identical to the one offered at the current campus. In cases where the course is similar but not identical, the campus has the option to review for approval or denial. Students at Argosy University/Orange County who wish to submit course transfer requests for courses taken at another Argosy University campus must do so before or during the first year of enrollment at Argosy University/Orange County.

Doctor of Psychology in Clinical Psychology Program

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

The Doctor of Psychology (PsyD) in Clinical Psychology Program has been designed to educate and train students so that they may eventually be able to function effectively as clinical psychologists. To ensure that students are prepared adequately, the curriculum provides for the meaningful integration of theory, training and practice. The clinical psychology program at Argosy University/Orange County emphasizes the development of attitudes, knowledge and skills essential in the formation of professional psychologists who are committed to the ethical provision of quality services. Specific objectives of the program include the following:

- The training of practitioners capable of delivering diagnostic and therapeutic services effectively to diverse populations of clients in need of such treatment.
- The development of mental health practitioners who understand the biological, psychological and sociological bases of human functioning.
- The training of practitioners who are capable of exercising leadership both in the healthcare delivery system and in the training of mental health professionals.
- The preparation of mental health practitioners capable of expanding the role of psychologists within society.
- The education of psychologists capable of working with other disciplines as part of a professional team.

Concentrations in the PsyD in Clinical Psychology Program

Students enrolled in the PsyD in Clinical Psychology Program at Argosy University/Orange County may choose an optional concentration in Child & Adolescent Psychology or Forensic Psychology.

Concentration in Child & Adolescent Psychology

The Child & Adolescent Psychology concentration is designed to acquaint doctoral students with basic intervention and assessment approaches to a range of child and adolescent populations. Graduates with the concentration will understand basic principles of assessment and intervention as they are applied to clinically and culturally diverse child and adolescent populations.

Concentration in Forensic Psychology

The Forensic Psychology concentration is designed to acquaint students with major areas in which law and psychology interact. The goal of the program is to familiarize students with the application of child and adult assessment techniques to both criminal and civil cases, as well as to the emerging area of testing for the hiring of police and governmental law enforcement personnel.

Clinical Training Overview

Clinical training is the supervised out-of-class contact of students with a clinical population. Through this contact, students apply their theoretical knowledge, implement clinical techniques based on this knowledge, and develop the professional and personal attitudes important to the identity of a professional psychologist. By the end of clinical training, Argosy University/Orange County students possess effective assessment and intervention skills, and practice in a highly ethical manner.

During clinical training, students advance through progressively more challenging levels of training. At each level, multiple faculty members and field supervisors assess a student's progress in multiple ways. In order to advance to the next level of clinical training, the student must pass certain courses, complete practicum and internship, and demonstrate competency in specific clinical tasks.

POSTDOCTORAL RESPECIALIZATION CERTIFICATE IN CLINICAL PSYCHOLOGY OVERVIEW

The Postdoctoral Respecialization Certificate in Clinical Psychology is designed for qualified individuals with doctoral degrees in the areas of psychology other than clinical psychology. It provides the opportunity to obtain clinical knowledge and skills through class work and through fieldwork experiences. Coursework and clinical training experiences are designed to enable program participants to seek licensure in clinical psychology.

Certificate Requirements

Students admitted in the Postdoctoral Respecialization Certificate Program in Clinical Psychology must complete a minimum of 10 courses (30 credit hours), a Diagnostic and Therapy Practicum (minimum of 500 hours for each practicum), and a full-time internship.

Courses offered as part of the Postdoctoral Respecialization Certificate in Clinical Psychology are those in the PsyD in Clinical Psychology Program.

Course Sequence

Those candidates admitted to the program receive a course of study tailored to their specific professional needs and interests. Courses are selected to prepare students for clinical fieldwork and to meet licensure requirements. The Postdoctoral Respecialization Certificate in Clinical Psychology requires a minimum of two years residency in the program. The typical length of time to complete the program is three years of part-time study and clinical fieldwork, and one-year full-time internship.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

The application process for admission into the PsyD in Clinical Psychology Program requires the submission of material that will enable the Admissions Department to verify the applicant's academic qualifications to enroll in the doctoral program in professional psychology. Because the admission process also takes into consideration the qualities essential to becoming an effective clinical psychologist, material is also required which will enable the Admissions Committee to make a determination of the individual's personal integrity, maturity, interpersonal skills, and ability to communicate effectively.

Individuals interested in applying for entry into the PsyD in Clinical Psychology Program must submit the following materials:

- Completed Application for Admission Form
- Application fee (non-refundable, except in California)
- Personal statement with a self-appraisal of qualifications for the profession
- Updated résumé
- Three complete Applicant Recommendation Forms
- Official transcripts from all postsecondary schools attended
- Minimum TOEFL® scores of 213 (computer version) or 550 (paper version) are required of applicants whose native language is not English, or who have not graduated from an institution at which English is the language of instruction.

After reviewing each applicant's qualifications, the school will notify applicants if they have been invited for a personal interview with a faculty member. Such interviews may be scheduled on an Interview Day, when applicants have an opportunity to meet with faculty and students, tour the school and address questions to admission and financial aid staff.

After the interview, the Admissions Committee meets to review the applicant in order to render a final decision as to the applicant's acceptance into the PsyD in Clinical Psychology Program. The Admissions Department will notify all applicants of the Admissions Committee's decision as soon as the decision has been made. Accepted applicants are required to remit a $200.00 deposit by the date stipulated on the written notification to reserve a place in the entering class. This deposit will be applied toward the tuition of the student's first semester as a matriculated student.

Applicants must have graduated with a bachelor's degree or advanced degree from a regionally accredited institution, a nationally accredited institution documented and approved by the faculty and dean of the College of Professional Psychology and Behavioral Sciences, or an appropriately certified foreign institution.

Applicants should have a minimum GPA of 3.25 on a 4.0 scale or the equivalent for all degrees attained. A minimum GPA of 3.25 (on a scale of 4.0) or the equivalent is preferred for the following:

- Cumulative coursework
- Junior/senior coursework
- Coursework in psychology
- Highest degree attained

Prerequisites for Admission

ENROLLMENT REQUIREMENTS

Students have the option to maintain a full-time or part-time course load. Students are encouraged to register for a minimum of 6 credit hours each semester. The most effective way of achieving the program's objectives is to take the theoretical and practical courses over a three or four year period in the order recommended by the faculty.

Additional Requirements for Academic Progress

Students must make satisfactory progress toward a degree by maintaining a grade point average (GPA) of 3.0 on a scale of 4.0, and completing the program within seven years after matriculation. All coursework and practicum (for clinical psychology programs) must be completed by the end of the fifth year after matriculation. The Comprehensive Examination must be completed successfully no later than the end of the fifth year after matriculation. Students who take an approved leave of absence will have seven years plus the length of time that they were on the approved leave of absence, not to exceed one year, to complete the program.

GRADUATION REQUIREMENTS

Students who are admitted into the program will be responsible for completing the program requirements that are in effect at the time of their admission. The school retains the right to modify these requirements in accordance with the demands of the profession of psychology. The courses will be completed in the order recommended by Argosy University/Orange County.

To be eligible for graduation in the PsyD in Clinical Psychology Program, students must meet the following requirements:

- 98 semester credit hours, all of which must be completed by the end of the seventh year of matriculation. The total credit hours must include:
  - A minimum of 71 credit hours of required courses
  - 12 credit hours (2 years) of practicum and practicum seminar groups
  - A minimum of 12 credit hours of general electives
  - 3 credit hours of Clinical Research Project
- Successful completion of the Comprehensive Examination no later than the beginning of the fifth year
- Successful completion of all sections of the Clinical Competency Evaluation (CCE)
- Successful completion of a one year, full-time internship or its equivalent (two half-time internships)
- Successful completion of the Clinical Research Project (CRP)
- Grade Point Average (GPA) of at least “B” (3.0 on a 4.0 scale), with no more than two grades lower than “B-”, and a grade of “B-” or better in all core (first two years) courses, excluding CCE courses in assessment and professional issues, which require a “B” for CCE credit
- Completion of Professionalization Groups I and II
- Completion of these requirements within seven years of matriculation into the program
- A completed Petition to Graduate submitted to campus administration

Petition to Graduate

Argosy University/Orange County holds a commencement ceremony annually, usually in May. All students who desire to graduate, even those who do not intend to participate in the annual commencement ceremony, must submit the appropriate forms and fees to the Student Services Department.

Although commencement is held annually, students who complete graduation requirements at other times during the year will be recognized as a graduated student and receive a letter of completion, provided the Petition for Program Completion is submitted. Depending on the licensure requirements of the state in which a student is making application, graduates may begin counting postdoctoral supervision hours toward licensure upon approval of their Clinical Research Project (CRP) by the CRP chair and committee members, provided that internship and other degree requirements have been met. Requirements for when a student may begin to count post-doctoral hours vary from state to state. Students are thus advised to consult with the necessary state agency in the state for which they are seeking licensure for specific requirements. For those states that will accept the date upon which the CRP has received draft approval from the chairperson and committee members, the Student Services Department will communicate this date to the state licensing board. Students must send a copy of their CRP Approval Form indicating draft approval by the chair and two readers to the Student Services Department so that a record of the date of draft approval is available. Students may not refer to themselves as “Doctor” or use the title of PsyD until internship and all program requirements have been completed. The date upon which the bound copy is received is recorded on the student transcript as the date upon which all program requirements were met.

WRITING PROGRAM

Faculty can recommend or require a writing course or workshop to students based on their writing performance in their course. In the latter instance, the student must enroll in this course the following semester. The course does not count towards the credit hours required for graduation. Student failure to enroll in the required writing course or writing workshop, without prior approval from the program chair or designee, will result in an automatic referral to the Evaluation Committee.

These discussion groups for first-year students are led by a full-time faculty member and meet once a week for one hour. Students discuss topics related to professional psychology and the development of a professional identity. The faculty member leading the group will help students with academic and field training planning, general consultation on the PsyD in Clinical Psychology Program, and questions emerging during the student's first-year academic experience. The Professionalization Group does not carry academic credit.

The course objectives are as follows:

- To assist and support students in developing identities as clinical psychology trainees and evolving clinical psychology professionals through readings, discussion, role play and classroom presentation.
- To introduce students to the ethical practice of psychology and contemporary issues in clinical psychology
- To orient students to the roles, norms, and expectations of graduate studies and professional practice
- To provide academic advisement and student advocacy

Practicum and Practicum Seminar Requirements

The practicum is the first opportunity provided to Argosy University/Orange County students for clinical field training. Within the series of practicum courses, Argosy University/Orange County provides students with the opportunity of working under supervision with a clinical population within a mental health delivery system. The practicum is an essential part of clinical training and all students are required to participate in the practicum experience. Liability insurance is included in the cost of the practicum.

Full-time students will normally be placed in a Diagnostic Practicum and Seminar during their second year of study and in a Therapy Practicum and Seminar during the following year. For registration purposes, the practicum and seminar are treated like a course. The practicum/seminar carries 3 credit hours per semester and 6 credit hours per academic year. Practicum usually begin in September and conclude in June. However, a limited number of practicum programs may begin in July or August, and finish in June. For each of the Diagnostic and Therapy Practicum year, the student will be required to spend a minimum of 600 hours in the practicum training experience.

A practicum may not be done in a student's place of employment, nor is any student transferred from the practicum requirements. Students who come to Argosy University/Orange County with extensive clinical backgrounds are placed in practicum sites in areas where they have an interest and do not have previous experience.

Practicum Eligibility

All students who enter the practicum application process must be in good academic standing, and have a minimum grade point average of 3.0 (on a scale of 4.0). Students must have completed the academic planning which will allow for all the practicum prerequisite courses to be completed prior to the beginning of the practicum. No student may begin a practicum without being in attendance at Argosy University/Orange County for a minimum of two and one-half semesters.

To be eligible for a Diagnostic Practicum, a student must have successfully completed or transferred the following courses:

The director of Clinical Training also has the discretion to make decisions on any probationary student who is beyond the first year of attendance. This would include both looking for practicum and participating in practicum.

If a first-year student is placed on probation based on Fall Semester grades, the student may not look for a practicum during the Spring Semester. If the student has achieved a GPA of 3.0 when the Spring grades are available, the student may, at the discretion of the director of Clinical Training, look for a practicum.

If a first-year student who has accepted a practicum is placed on probation after Spring grades are received, the student may not attend the practicum if the GPA is below a 3.0 after the Spring grades are received. The Training Committee may make exceptions only after a thorough review of the student's academic and clinical suitability. If the GPA is at or above 3.0 after the Spring grades are received, the student may, at the discretion of the director of Clinical Training, begin the practicum.

Practicum Seminar Requirements

All students enrolled in a practicum must also concurrently enroll in a practicum seminar. The seminar meets weekly throughout the Fall (12 weeks), Spring (12 weeks), and Summer I (6 weeks) Semesters. These meetings allow the student to reflect on practicum experiences and to acquire additional skills and attitudes useful in field training. The specific content and emphasis of the seminar varies according to the practicum setting and focus of the enrolled students and the professional expertise of the faculty member.

Types of Practicum

Diagnostic Practicum emphasizes the clinical observation and diagnostic interviewing of clients and provides gradual exposure to psychological testing procedures.

Therapy Practicum emphasizes some aspect of therapeutic intervention. Time is allocated to direct therapeutic contact, seminars and meetings, and supervision.

Mixed Practicum are practicum which combine diagnostic and therapeutic activities.

Advanced Practicum is an elective training opportunity for students to gain further experience in either testing, therapy, or a combination of both.

Practicum Evaluations

The goal of the practicum is to foster the training of competent clinicians capable of providing basic and effective assessment and therapeutic intervention. Evaluation of student progress in clinical field training focuses on three areas: theoretical knowledge base, clinical skills and professional attitudes. A thorough review of all practicum students' site and seminar evaluations is conducted by the Clinical Training Committee, and an overall grade of "Credit" or "No Credit" is included in the student's academic record.

Please refer to the Argosy University/Orange County Training Manual for a more detailed description of training requirements and guidelines. All students are responsible for being familiar with the information contained in the Training Manual.

Clinical Competency Evaluation Requirements

The Clinical Competency Evaluation (CCE) is a series of competency-based examinations, which are designed to evaluate students' mastery of major clinical assessment and therapeutic skills.

Students should be prepared to demonstrate clinical competence both conceptually and in application. It is also expected that students, having learned theoretical and applied bases in classroom courses, will have made use of out-of-class clinical contacts (i.e., practicum, seminar groups, supplementary supervision, visiting lecturers) to refine and extend the skills to be evaluated by the CCE. Therefore successful completion of coursework and practicum do not guarantee passing the CCE.

Descriptions and Procedures for Successful Completion

There are four sections to the CCE:

- Diagnostic Scoring and Interpretation The student meets this requirement by successfully completing all assessment courses with a grade of B or better.
- Diagnostic Interview and Formulation Students submit a tape, transcript, and diagnostic report and self-critique of a diagnostic interview they have conducted with a client. The tape must not have been submitted earlier either in the school or outside it for review, supervision or critique.
- Psychotherapy Interventions and Formulations Students submit a tape of a therapy interview, transcript, and therapy case formulation report including a self-critique. This tape cannot have been submitted earlier either in the school or outside it for review, supervision or critique. A prerequisite for this portion of the CCE is successful completion of the Comprehensive Examination.
- Ethics The student meets this requirement by passing Professional Issues: Ethics, Conduct, and Law (PP7100) with a grade of “B” or better.

Grading

Each course considered to be part of the CCE must be passed with a grade of “B” or better, with the exception of the Diagnostic Interview and Psychotherapy Competencies, which are graded “Pass/Pass with Revision/Fail.”

The course instructors will explain the grading of the CCE required courses. Waiver requests for the CCE courses must have prior course syllabi and course materials (final papers or exam copies), or students may apply for a waiver exam if approved by the faculty.

Practicum seminar leaders will distribute material about how to complete the diagnostic and psychotherapy CCE tasks and the criteria for passage. Students work with their seminar leaders and re-submit CCE material until mastery is achieved. Each CCE task must be completed before advancing to the next level of training.

Comprehensive Examination Requirements

All doctoral students are required to successfully complete a Comprehensive Examination. The material covered in the Comprehensive Examination covers the courses and material required of students during the first two years of study at Argosy University/Orange County. The examination requires students to be able to integrate the material from those years into a form demonstrating both mastery of the material and ability to organize what they have learned in a coherent and logical manner.

Students who are unable to pass the Comprehensive Examination will receive information concerning their performance on the examination and assistance in constructing additional experiences and instruction aimed at enabling them to pass this program requirement.

Comprehensive Examination Prerequisites

To be able to sit for the Comprehensive Examination, the student must have completed successfully all first and second-year courses (as required in the four and five year programs) excluding the practicum. Courses that are transferred are considered successfully completed. Students taking the Comprehensive Examination must complete the following first and second year courses in the doctoral curriculum:

Procedures for the Comprehensive Examination

Students are required to take the Comprehensive Examination no later than the end of the fourth year after matriculation. At Argosy University/Orange County, the Comprehensive Examination is offered once each year in August. Students interested in taking the Comprehensive Examination should fill out the request form to do so during the Summer I semester of the year they intend to take the test. The Comprehensive Examination Request Form will be available for students.

Clinical Research Project Requirements

The Clinical Research Project (CRP) Manual (published as a separate document) for the Argosy University/Orange County PsyD in Clinical Psychology Program is designed as a guide to the CRP process. The student should consult the CRP Manual as the primary resource for information about the process from start to finish. Students are required to read and follow the CRP guidelines in the CRP Manual in their entirety as they begin to develop their CRP topics. The CRP Manual was also written as a resource for CRP chair and committee members.

The APA Publication Manual (5th edition, revised, 2001) should be used as the guide to editorial style and typing instructions.

Clinical Research Project Overview

The Clinical Research Project (CRP) is a training experience designed to provide students with a guided opportunity for producing a scholarly paper in which students build upon and consolidate research skills learned in the statistics and research methods course sequence, and prior empirical observations and components of courses in the basic curriculum. A broad range of qualitative methods of inquiry is permitted in the CRP. The types of projects allowed are listed below.

- Critical Review of the Literature on a Clinically Relevant Topic This involves a scholarly investigation of the literature on some general clinical topic, rather than on the treatment of a disorder. The review should address a question in professional psychology and attempt to answer the questions through a critical evaluation of the available literature, including evaluation of the methods used to investigate the topic.
- Qualitative Empirical Study This involves the collection, analysis, and interpretation of original data (broadly defined to include secondary descriptive analysis of data already available, replications, content analysis, etc.) to address a problem of theoretical or practical interest. A CRP may utilize qualitative, descriptive, field, or exploratory approaches.
- Case Study This is essentially a single-subject empirical study, involving a scholarly investigation of the literature on the treatment of a mental disorder in order to explore effective treatment approaches for a clinical disorder, and the study of the treatment of a client. Such a CRP should include appropriate measurement and analysis of treatment progress and outcome.
- Theoretical Paper The student may, with the approval of the chair and CRP committee, present a theoretical project. This project must include a new integration of theory based on a review of significant literature in this area. The paper should integrate two or more theoretical positions or place an array of research findings under a new theoretical umbrella. This work should be rigorous, integrative, and critical, and should communicate a clear viewpoint developed by the student in the course of the project. In addition, empirical data bearing on the problem should be discussed, and the practical and empirical implications of the analysis should be delineated.
- Participation in and Original Contribution to some larger qualitative research project conducted by a member of the faculty or other researcher The student's contribution to this project should clearly demonstrate scholarly knowledge and the ability to critically evaluate methodological rigor and clinical significance. Merely participating or collecting data will not be sufficient, but the CRP may include making an original contribution to the larger project, with independent analysis and writing.

- Program Development Students may develop a new program that can be reasonably implemented by professional psychologists. The "reasonable" implementation of a new program requires that financial and political constraints be considered. Programs that are developed must be based on a needs assessment out of which the program evolves. The needs assessment must be conducted by the student and documented in the CRP. The CRP for this type of project should include: a theoretical and practical justification of the program that is grounded in appropriate literature, including evaluation of the methodological rigor and clinical significance of the literature, the results of the needs assessment, the goals and objectives of the program, the plans for implementation, and a workable plan for program evaluation.
- Program Evaluation Students may choose to evaluate a specific service program. The program evaluation should include a formulation of specific evaluation questions, an evaluation design that is recognized and accepted by professionals in the field, an analysis of qualitative data, and a discussion of findings. Findings should be reported in a scholarly manner.

Depending on the nature of the type of CRP, students will be expected to demonstrate competency in the following processes:

- Identifying a focused and relevant clinical research topic
- Identifying and reviewing literature relevant to their topic of interest
- Critically reviewing literature related to their topic of interest
- Applying relevant research approaches to clinical data
- Applying relevant and critical theory to theoretical approaches being studied
- Developing innovations in clinical theory based on critical review of current theories and presentation of relevant clinical data
- Integrating findings from prior literature and clinical analyses into understanding of current literature and clinical theory and prior empirical research

Students, working closely with faculty members, identify a topic that can be fully addressed within the scope of the curriculum, and within the expertise of the full- or half-time faculty currently teaching in the program. In all topics, students will be expected to demonstrate competency in critical analysis of research and empirical literature, application of findings to topic under study, and integration of literature and clinical reviews into new perspectives on the topic being studied. The CRP should be of publishable quality.

To repeat: Students are not limited to research on patient populations. All students, however, are required to provide a clinical rationale for proposed reviews. The final CRP document should demonstrate:

- A mastery of theoretical, clinical, and empirical literature relevant to the topic studied
- Methodological and statistical knowledge relevant to the area of inquiry
- The ability to integrate specific theoretical, empirical and clinical observations and findings across studies and synthesize such information into clear conclusions or further hypotheses
- The ability to write clearly and concisely in the style adopted by the profession. (APA Publication Manual, 5th Edition, revised 2001)

In other words, the CRP should be a sophisticated piece of written scholarship that demonstrates the ability to frame and address a psychological issue by an exacting review of published literature and its application to actual clinical data.

Types of Questions

The following range of inquiry is permitted in the CRP:

- The topic must have some clinical application.
- There must be a published empirical literature of sufficient size to warrant critical review.

The focus of the literature and/or clinical review is determined by the student in collaboration with the CRP committee.

Please refer to the Argosy University/Orange County CRP Manual for a more detailed description of CRP requirements and guidelines. All students are responsible for being familiar with the information contained in the CRP Manual.

Internship Requirements

Internship Application Requirements

All students are required to complete a one-year (12-month) internship, or a two-year (24-month) half-time internship as a condition for graduation. This intensive and supervised contact with clients is essential for giving greater breadth and depth to the student's overall academic experience. Typically, full-time students will begin the internship during their fourth or fifth year of enrollment.

In order to be eligible to apply for internships, the student must have completed the following requirements:

- Be in good academic standing (i.e. must not be on academic probation)
- Successfully pass the doctoral Comprehensive Examination
- Successfully pass the entire set of CCE tasks with the exception of the therapy competency, which will not be completed until the Summer I session
- Resolved all grades of incomplete by October 1 of the year they apply
- Obtain Clinical Research Project (CRP) proposal approval from all committee members, and the Human Subject's Committee (if applicable)

Any student who does not meet one or more of these requirements, must petition the Training Committee in order to obtain permission to apply for internships.

Internship Application Procedures

The Training Department actively provides guidance and support for students throughout the internship search process—in both group and individual format. The following are the general steps in the process:

1. The student formally declares an intent to apply for internship.
2. The student arranges to have Argosy University/Orange County faculty members and practicum supervisors write letters of recommendation on his or her behalf.
3. The student meets with the director of Clinical Training to review the student's eligibility and to discuss procedures related to the internship application process.
4. The student researches a range of internship sites both in the surrounding geographical area and nationally. Various resources are available to conduct this research, such as directories of internship training (e.g., APA online, APPIC online, CAPIC diskette available via Argosy University/Orange County Training Dept.), and files available in the Training Department.
5. The student submits a list of internship sites that he or she is requesting approval to apply to. The Training Department carefully reviews all applicants' requests and decides which sites to approve based on compatibility, rank order, and site application limits.
6. The student sends application materials directly to his or her approved sites. The Training Department will coordinate the processing and sending of letters of recommendation as well as other necessary documents (e.g. APPIC verification of the applicant's eligibility and readiness).
7. The student arranges to meet with internship personnel at those sites where they are offered interviews.
8. The Training Department assists the student in preparing for Uniform Notification Day in February when students will receive their match results online through the National Matching Service web site.
9. In the event a student does not receive an internship on Uniform Notification Day, the Training Department provides guidance and assistance to him or her in continuing the search process.
10. Students will be permitted to begin their internships if they are in good academic standing, have completed all doctoral academic requirements (including any course incompletes), have successfully passed all CCE tasks and have completed all of their CRP requirements.

Learning Contracts

Interns are responsible for discussing their training goals and interests with their internship training director or primary supervisor in order to develop a formal learning contract soon after internship begins. This contract will be a written document sent to the Training Department by the student within a month after the start of internship.

Evaluation and Remediation

Internship supervisors complete a mid-year and final internship progress report. These forms are an evaluation of the student's progress, competence, and performance relative to the learning objectives as well as other factors of importance to the internship site program. These forms are carefully reviewed by the Training Department to make sure that the student is making satisfactory progress.

The Training Department actively works to address areas of significant difficulties, and, as necessary, coordinates with the internship site supervisor a remediation plan. If, at any point during the internship process, a student is in need of remediation, the Argosy University/Orange County Procedures for Practicum and Internship Remediation will be implemented. At the completion of the internship year, the Training Department makes the final determination whether or not the internship requirements have been met. If post-internship remedial work is required, the student, the Training Department, and the internship site director will develop a written contract specifying clinical areas needing improvement, methods by which such improvement will be achieved, and criteria by which improvement will be measured. The process of consultation and approval by the Training Department and final approval and/or hearing of student appeal by the Appeals Board applies to internship remediation.

Please refer to the Argosy University/Orange County Training Manual for a more detailed description of training requirements and guidelines. All students are responsible for being familiar with the information contained in the Training Manual.
